MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 31, 1862.

O'Meara—Breckinridge Treason.

The refusal of government to transmit the Southern Oregon Gazette in the mails, has had the effect of closing the existence of that traitorous sheet. O'Meara, it is said, supposes, that by sending out his treason under another name, he can render of no avail the order of government; but he will find that it is his treason that the government refuses to be at the expense of distributing, and that it cares nothing for the name under which that treason is printed.

The indorsement of J. C. Breckinridge's treason, most likely caused the order of prohibition. This John C. Breckinridge was O'Meara's late candidate for President. As a traitor he had the audacity to remain as a spy and informer at Washington last summer. At the extra session he made his "peace speech" so much eulogized by traitors here and elsewhere he tried to excite a riot at Baltimore on his way home to Kentucky—he labored with all his might to transfer Kentucky over to the rebels—and failing in his treasonable object, and "caught in the act" of plotting against the Constitution and the laws fled like a thief in a buggy driven by a darkey boy—sought refuge within the lines of the invaders of the soil of his native State; this wretch, whose soul is blackened with perjury, to whom oaths and obligations are "trifles light as air," who adds to the low cunning of the swindler the recklessness of the hunted desperado—had the audacity to issue an address "to the people of Kentucky!" This long and frothy document, filled with high-sounding declarations of affection for the State that has honored him so much beyond his deserts, like every criminal's plea, charges upon others the very crimes of which he stands convicted. He is, of course, very severe on the Legislature. That body having refused to become an instrument of Treason in his hands, is anathematised with all the flatulent vehemence of an "ardent Southern mind." He charges it with having exceeded its authority, with having betrayed the rights of the people, with having brought devastation and ruin upon the State—with having, in fact, committed the unpardonable sin of remaining faithful to the obligations of honor and true to the flag of our common country. Hear the arch-traitor:

For those who, denied by the Legislature the protection due to the humblest citizen, have been delivered over to the tender mercies of foreign mercenaries, and hunted like partridges on the mountains, what remains but imprisonment, exile or resistance? As one of them, I intend to resist. I will avoid conflict with Kentuckians, except in necessary self-defence, but I will unite with my fellow-citizens to resist the invaders who have driven us from our homes. To this course we are impelled by the highest sense of duty, and the irresistible instincts of manhood.—To defend your birthright and mine, which is more precious than domestic ease, or life, I exchange, with proud satisfaction, a term of six years in the Senate of the United States, for the musket of a soldier.

We trust that there will be another change in the employment of this traitor—this man, who stepping from the Senate of the United States, seized the musket of a soldier to destroy our government and constitution—what he richly deserves—a halter! Never did criminal more richly deserve it. Never did offender against the public peace more imperatively require that Justice should do her perfect work. Of all the crew who raised their hands against the government, none, perhaps, stands so pre-eminently infamous as John C. Breckinridge. Unlike Toombs and Davis, he adds hypocrisy to treason.—Deep in the Conspiracy from the beginning, he continued to perform the functions and draw the pay of a loyal Senator for months after his associates had unfurled the banner of Rebellion. With fair speeches on his lips, he went about the Capital in the capacity of a spy, betraying secrets he had sworn to keep, and violating confidence held sacred even among outlaws and outcasts the world over!

It is a man guilty of such crimes that O'Meara endorses and approves as a "pure patriot" and his course as worthy of example to the people of Oregon!

Is not that treason? Does not O'Meara thus declare for treason? Is it strange that government in this loyal State should refuse to transport in the mails the effusions of his traitorous heart? Where would O'Meara be, and all his admirers and defenders, if Joe Lane should raise the flag of treason in our State? As they were for Breckinridge in the past, so they are for Breckinridge now!

From the Upper Columbia.

Arrival of the Carrie Ladd—Later from the Salmon river mines—Over one hundred and fifty thousand dollars in gold dust come down—News from Powder river—No impediment in the navigation of the Columbia and Snake rivers.

The steamer Carrie Ladd arrived on Saturday night from the Columbia river, brings highly important news from the Upper Columbia river and Salmon river gold mines. Mr. Jones, (Wells, Fargo & Co's Express Messenger,) came passenger on her from Walla Walla, having in charge $75,000 in gold dust. The purser had more than the same amount belonging to passengers. Altogether there must have been $200,000. Several merchants from Lewiston came down from Lewiston and Walla Walla to purchase new supplies of goods. Navigation on the Upper Columbia and Snake rivers is now open. The steamer Col. Wright left Walla Walla on Friday morning, and her passengers and express reached this city on Saturday evening. The weather is mild and the snow is fast disappearing in the upper country. Those who have claims are said to be making a good thing out of them. It is said that a large amount of dust is awaiting transportation from the mines. The trails are said to in good traveling condition.

The Mines.

We received the Walla Walla Statesman by express on Saturday night, including 22d March. Our news from the Salmon River Mines is to March 9th. Mr. H. Miller writes to the Statesman under date of Florence, Jan. 14th, that, having left Walla Walla on the 28th December, he arrived on that date. The journey was a severe one. On the 24th he writes—

THE MINES ABOUT FLORENCE.

The discoveries of gold in this district, so far, are confined to the head gulches of Miller's creek—a tributary of Slate creek—and Sand creek and its tributaries. The last-named creek runs directly into Salmon river. The waters of these creeks interlock, and the gulches flowing into them have, almost without exception—so far as they have been tried—been found very rich. In the beds of the gulches, which are usually wide and flat, the "top dirt" consists of a thick, wiry turf, and then a deposit of pipe clay, or stratified muck. Immediately under this comes the deposit of auriferous gravel and sand. Quartz gravel predominates, and is colored by oxides. Boulders of decomposed granite, hard, gray granite cobble-stones, coarse granitic sand and black sand, are the principal ingredients in the original deposits, together with silicious rocks in great variety. In this deposit prospects are obtained that verify the assertion of an acquaintance to me on the night of my arrival here: "You are now in the midst of the richest placers that were ever discovered in the world." It may be asserted as true that scarcely a miner here would stay by a claim if he were not sure that it would pay him $25 a day in good weather. Without giving names or describing claims, I can say, in the bounds of truth, that $30 a day to the man, among good miners, and industrious ones, is considered a low average yield for claims; and this money is made exclusively with rockers—up to this time; but many ranges of sluices are now ready for work so soon as a thaw gives up water to run them.

During the fall, when rockers could be used to advantage, instances of miners making from $300 to $500 a day were common, and less than $50 was not spoken of. As high as one hundred and forty ounces a day have been taken out, and two hundred ounces out of a hole not over eight square, and seven or eight feet deep. Since my arrival here some work has been done, and I am cognizant of cases of men making $75 to the hand in five or six hours' work, and those while it was necessary to keep hot water constantly to prevent the rockers from freezing up.

The gold here is very fine, and a very large proportion will go off with the black sand in panning out. When the ranges of sluices, now ready, go into operation, quicksilver can be used to great advantage, and doubtless will be. The results from the use of sluices must be astonishing, and in the spring a season of unparalled prosperity among miners may be looked for.

Fully believing in the richness of these mines, finding the largest stories reported below rather below than above the truth, there are many here, and more coming, that will be disappointed, no matter how well they may direct their exertions. To discover rich diggings is by the favor of fortune, but to get the gold out of them a man must depend upon himself.

The weather was very cold. The mercury had been down to 27 below 0. The miners were healthy. There was sufficient clothing and food for the miners until spring.

On the 3d of March he writes that the snow was seven feet deep in the ravines—that the miners were waiting for a thaw—that a Dutchman came in and bought goods with coarse gold—an excitement followed—400 men hunted up and found him 30 miles east of Florence, at the "Hole in the Ground"—that the 600 returned to Florence wiser than when they left—that whisky supplies were exhausted—that, at the rate miners were coming in, in six weeks provisions would be consumed—that a few days' washing had added proofs to the richness of the diggings.

On the 9th March he writes that provisions were becoming scarce—that many were apprehending that they would be exhausted by the first of April—that the weather had moderated, and miners had started to look for new diggings.

A PROBABLE LOSS OF LIFE.

A party of four Frenchmen who had been prospecting on the south fork of Salmon, and who, it was supposed, had discovered rich diggings started down Salmon river in a boat about two weeks ago. Near the junction of Snake and Salmon rivers their boat capsized, and they got ashore and reached the camp of "Billy," a Nez Perces Chief. Billy placed them on the trail to Lewiston, and they started for that place. Some days afterwards the Indians found that they had traveled the trail some miles, when they had quit it and struck for Craig's. It appears that the Frenchmen had left the trail on account of its not being discernible. The Indians followed them—ascending the divide between Clearwater and Salmon—with the intention of rescuing them but were compelled to return by the depth of snow. The men were probably lost.

The body of a man was found a short time since on Camas prairie partially devoured by wolves. No doubt spring will disclose the bodies of many who have perished there.

Mr. Miller does not speak of striking a good claim—which was so stated in some of the papers.

The following items are from the Walla Walla Statesman:

The bodies of three persons, supposed to be white men, have been found near the head of Lawyer's Canyon, on Camas Prairie, badly decayed, or nearly all the flesh eaten off by wolves.

A few severe cases of scurvy have occurred in the mines.

There are about two hundred men and as many horses at the foot of Craig's mountain, near the old mill stand. They will probably start over the prairie in a few days and break the road—only two miles of which is extremely bad. When the road is broken, horsemen can pass into Salmon river without serious trouble.

The snow is going off rapidly, caused by a heavy "Chinook wind," which has been blowing for several days.

Provisions are scarce in the mines, yet the probability is that the stock on hand will last until pack trains are able to get in with fresh supplies.

A party of "roughs" recently attempted to trample on the mining laws in Florence, in a disputed claim affair, when suddenly about two hundred resolute men, armed with rifles and shot guns, came down upon them unawares, and immediately put a stop to their malicious designs.

The Washington correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin says that Government has abrogated the contract for carrying the overland mail from California, on account of the impossibility of carrying it. We think the Bulletin's correspondent must be mistaken.

The Statesman of the 22d, says that many persons are every day leaving that place for the mines. Some go with jumpers, some with hand-sleds. One company seemed to be drawing what appeared to be a slab, with the end curbed. All these contrivances were heavily loaded.

The Statesman has a report that a party of fifteen men, who attempted to come in from the mines, had been frozen on Camas Prairie.

Favorable news had been received from Powder river. Diggings were there yielding from $10 to $20 a day. The gold was coarse, much like that of Southern Oregon. In the valley, the snow had been light, not over six inches any time the past winter. In the mountains, five and six feet.

TENNESSEE.—This State was always for the Union. She was forced into rebellion by the by the manœuvres of leading rebels.—Her citizens exult when our t[illegible]dvance into the State. Many of the soldiers are glad to be rid of the hated employment into which they had been forced. Many of them aver that they had it not in their hearts to fire upon the "old flag." At the battle of Somerset, a Mississippian was noticed with a death wound and he implored our officers to kill him. He was kindly treated and spoken to, and when it was suggested to him that he had possibly been fighting under a false prejudice against the North, he assented. A boy of but eighteen years was found in the same field, his ankle crushed by a cannon ball. He told the surgeon that he had been forced into the war, that in all the battle he did not fire on our troops, for he loved the country too well. The noble youth was sacrificed by the infamous tyrants who lead the rebellion. Another young man cried lustily for his life when taken prisoner, and told his captors that he had been taught by his officers that the Union troops would kill all they caught. Such are the means adopted to terrify the people of the South and make them hate the Government. No punishment is too severe for such leaders. Every man in position in the rebel Government should be stripped of all his possessions to the last dollar and sent naked into perpetual banishment.

From Victoria.

We have Victoria papers to the 25th:

Small-pox exists at Victoria. The bark A. A. Eldridge sailed for Portland on the 24th. The steamer Otter brought from Frazer river $20,000 in gold dust on the 20th. Miners are cautioned not to attempt to go to the mines at present. "A rush to Cariboo now is bound to cause a fearful destruction of life."

LATER FROM CARIBOO.—Mr. George Weaver, an account of whose trip from Frazer river to the coast we give elsewhere, furnishes us with some late news from Cariboo. He left Beaver Lake on the 28th January. The weather had been very cold from the 1st of December to the date of his leaving—much colder than at any time last winter. Not near so much snow fell this winter as in the winter of 1860-61. The mercury congealed on the night of the 1st of December; on the 25th and 26th January, the mercury congealed before sundown with the sun shining full upon it! Two thermometers at Williams Lake burst from the effects of the cold. Quite a number of men have been frost bitten. A man named Wilson was frost bitten at Mud Lake after half an hour's exposure. Another named Ferguson, at the Forks of Quesnelle, while chopping wood with leathern boots on, had his feet frozen. Flour was worth $45 a hundred at the Forks of Quesnelle, and $50 at Antler Creek. Bacon at Antler was selling at $1 25 a pound.—Victoria Colonist.

Marion County Union Convention.

The following are the nominations made by the Marion County Union Convention, held at Salem, on Saturday the 29th inst.:

Delegates to State Convention—E. N. Cook, Geo. A. Edes, I. R. Moores, S. M. Case, Wesley Shannon, Joseph Magoon, J. W. Grimm, A. Bush, E. Williams, Samuel Brown, P. Davis, B. F. Harding. Senators—J. W. Grimm, Wm. Greenwood. Representatives—I. R. Moores, John Minto, C. A. Reed, Jos. Engles. County Judge—J. C. Peebles. County Clerk—Geo. A. Edes. Sheriff—Samuel Hedrick. Treasurer—J. H. Moores.

FROM PUGET SOUND.—The Port Townsend North West, of the 22d March, says that Mr. Parkinson, contractor for carrying the mail on the Sound, has given up his contract.

How to go to the Mines.—Miners who now purpose going to Salmon River, Rhodes Creek, and the other mining regions, should not start out unprepared to travel through a cold and starved [illegible] country, for it is known by all who have come from above the Cascades that the country is now bare of all kinds of provisions, by its supplies having been cut off by the long stoppage of navigation. Therefore we would entreat all who wish to go through comfortably, and return with their pockets full of "Rocks," to call at HARKER BROTHERS, opposite the Upper Wharf, and supply themselves with Flour, Bacon, Beans, Groceries, Blankets, Clothing, Rubber and Nailed Boots, and all other articles necessary for mining purposes, before they embark for the Land of Promise.

CIRCUIT COURT.—A. J. Cubbertson vs. Martha Cubbertson—petition for divorce granted.

On motion of the prosecuting attorney, the Court dismissed the two indictments against John Johnson, and ordered his discharge.

B. Shephard, convicted of setting up a gambling device with dice, was sentenced to pay $500 and costs of suit, or stand committed to the county jail until paid. Defendant's counsel filed a bill of exceptions and gave notice of an appeal of the case. The Court fixed the bail at $1,000.

State of Oregon vs. Z. N. Stansbury, Lewis Love, and others. This action was brought on a County Treasurer's bond to recover from his sureties the sum of $1500 and upwards, alleged to be due the State as forfeitures for not paying over money due the State on the first Monday of February, and for detention of same, after the first Monday of March. For the first default 20 per cent. on the amount due is claimed, and for the second default 2½ per cent. a month during the period the sum was withheld is claimed. On demurrer the Court held that the sureties are not liable for the first forfeiture of 20 per cent. but are liable for the second of 2½ per cent. a month.

CHANGE OF TIME.—To morrow, the first of April, the overland mail stages will commence to make through trips from Sacramento to Portland in seven days. Mr. Richardson, the superintendent in this city, informs us that for the purpose of coming up to time the company has put on the route quite a number of extra horses and stages, and nothing but high water will prevent them from making schedule time. The loss of the Clackamas bridge has been a serious draw-back, on account of which, the mails had to be carried to Oregon City on the boats, which leave at half-past eight in the morning, while the stage left at six.

MRS. FORBES' BENEFIT.—This takes place at the Willamette Theatre to-night. Mrs. Forbes has labored hard and effectively to please her Portland audiences; and she is certainly deserving a full house. On this occasion the tragedy of "Evadne, or the sister's Honor, will be performed; Mrs. Forbes taking the part of Evadne—a most interesting character, and in which she has always been successful. The performance will conclude with the comedy of the "Love Chase," Mrs. Forbes taking the part of Constance. We may expect a rich treat. Those who have never witnessed the performance of the distinguished artist, and others who desire to see her in one of her best characters, should be at the theatre to-night. This is the last night of Mrs. Forbes' appearance.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOL.—Parents will take notice that to-day commences a new term of the Public School in this city. Parents need not have any reluctance in sending their children to this institution. The teachers are fully qualified for their position, and everything will be done by them to further the advancement of their pupils. The public school is an institution of which our citizens may well be proud.

Multnomah County Union Convention.

The following are the proceedings of the Multnomah County Union Convention, held on Saturday, March 27th:

The Union Convention met at the Court house at one o'clock, P. M., agreeably to notice. The Convention was called to order by J. McCraken. E. D. Shattuck was elected temporary Chairman, and J. McCraken elected temporary Secretary.

On motion a committee of three were appointed on credentials. A. C. R. Shaw, S. Coffin and A. M. Starr, were appointed by the Chair.

Sauvie's Island precinct was allowed two members. Mr. Jewett and Mr. Howell were admitted to seats in the Convention. The Convention now proceeded to permanent organization by ballot, electing E. D. Shattuck Chairman, John McCraken Secretary, and R. J. Ladd Assistant Secretary. A committee of five were appointed to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the Convention, namely: Messrs. Pearne, Williams, Hogue and Corbett, were named that committee.

The committee reported the following resolutions, which were adopted:

Resolved, That we recognise but one political bond, and that is the bond that binds the Union together.

Resolved, That so long as there are those within the limits of the United States who carry arms in opposition to its laws, for the purpose of setting at defiance its authority, and destroying its constitution, we will, to the utmost of our ability, uphold and sustain the legally constituted authorities of the government in suppressing the existing rebellion, and in bringing all traitors to merited punishment.

Resolved, As a safeguard against masked secessionists and to defeat more effectually their iniquitous designs, we hereby declare that we have not and we never have sympathized with the Southern Confederacy; but that it is our greatest desire to see our country freed from its present trouble and the rebellion against the Government of the United States effectually quelled.

Resolved, That the Delegates elected by this meeting to attend the State Convention to be held at Eugene City on the 9th day of April, A. D. 1862, shall in no instance issue proxies outside of said delegation.

Resolved, That we hereby instruct our Delegates to the State Convention to offer and vote for a resolution in that body approving and supporting the Administration in the prosecution of the war for the suppression of the existing rebellion against the constitutional authority of the Government.

The following Delegates were elected: Messrs. A. M. Starr, Williams, Pearne, Watkins, Shaw, Powell, Corbett and Smith.

On motion, a Central Union County Committee of five were appointed by the Chair, consisting of A. J. Dufur, S. J. McCormick, C. S. Silver, H. Failing, C. H. Lewis.

Adjourned.

J. McCRAKEN, Sec'y.

Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. Union State Convention.

The qualified voters of the State of Oregon, who are in favor of the suppression of the present wicked rebellion—of a vigorous prosecution of war so long as necessary to frustrate the mad schemes of armed traitors—who are opposed to any peace other than the honorable one sure to come when rebels and their sympathizers submit to the constitutionally elected and qualified authorities, and legally enacted laws of the Government—who think more of country than of party prejudice and individual preference—who are in favor of supporting the general government in its endeavors to defend the Constitution, execute the laws, and preserve the Union, and who are willing to unite for the election of a ticket upon such a basis at the coming general election, without reference to former political associations, are requested to meet at the places of voting in the several precincts in the various counties of the State on Saturday the 22d day of March A. D. 1862 to choose delegates to County Conventions to be held in the respective counties of the State, at the county seats thereof on Saturday the 29th day of March, A. D. 1862 for the purpose of selecting delegates to a State Convention, to be held at Eugene City, Lane county, on Wednesday the 9th day of April 1862 for the purpose of nominating a Union Ticket for State Officers and Member of Congress, as follows: Jackson county, 10 [illegible]; Josephine, 6; Douglas 8; Curry 1; Coos 1; [illegible]; Lane, 8; Benton, 5; Linn, 10; Polk, 5; Yamhill, 6; Marion, 12; Clackamas, 6; Multnomah 8, Washington, 4; Columbia, 1; Clatsop, 1; Tillamook, 1; Wasco, 4.

To the Republicans of Oregon!

The undersigned were instructed at the last State Convention to convene the Republicans of the State at their next meeting at Eugene City.

Events that have transpired since the meeting of the last State Convention could not then be foreseen and issues are now presented to the people paramount to all issues that heretofore divided political parties.

While we claim no right to dissolve the Republican organization, nor do we see any cause to recant any political principle heretofore held by us, yet believing that the vital issue now before the people is the preservation or destruction of our institutions, we are unwilling to do any thing to distract the Union sentiment in the coming canvass, and therefore have deemed it unwise to call a party convention with a view to the support of a distinctively Republican ticket.

In taking this course, we have been guided by the expressed wishes of Republicans throughout the State and also by a desire on our part, to avoid any barrier to the hearty support of a Union ticket by the loyal support of the State without regard to former political differences.

When we realize the fact that the Fathers of our common country secured that they had cemented a perpetual Union, that they are only traitors who have now attempted to overthrow it; we therefore call upon one and all to the rescue of the precious inheritance bequeathed to us by the founders of this Republic. He that neglects, for any cause at this time, to testify his devotion to our country, to a government that has made us the most prosperous and favored people on the face of the Globe, is not worthy the name of American citizen! We therefore appeal to the intelligence and patriotism of the loyal people of this State, to show by unanimity at the coming convention and election, their abhorrence of secession and treason, their love of country, its prosperity and perpetuity.

We therefore earnestly recommend to the Republican voters of the State, that without regard to party, they should in the coming canvass, heartily unite in nominating and supporting a ticket composed of Union men who hold the test embraced in the call which is herewith published.

E. D. SHATTUCK,
W. C. JOHNSON,

D., late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War, Chief Physician to the [illegible] Regiment of Honveds, Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary, and late Lecturer on Diseases of the Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Of all diseases the first great cause
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance—and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eye, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges [illegible]. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing, or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians, and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant, without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness, and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe, the Atlantic States and California, I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who, in the last stages of the above mentioned diseases, had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure. [illegible] the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected, the majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons who not only fail to cure the disease but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions, and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system, drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering, down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business, and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices, my patients can be restored to robust vigorous health.

Irregularities and all diseases of females and a treatment, principles established by years of practice, successionally [illegible] of the most remarkable cures. Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.
